essentially the most complicated elements of the Uruguay round of GATT negotiations used to be the rural dossier. the eu Communities' universal Agricultural coverage (CAP) and EC-U.S. family posed a number of the tricky issues. Alan Swinbank and Carolyn Tanner provide a compact, transparent description and interpretation of the negotiations and the issues. This Thames Essay stories the background of agriculture within the GATT during the earlier rounds of negotiation, presents a succinct assessment of the current nation of worldwide agriculture, and summarizes the heritage and current country of the CAP. the following 3 chapters chart the levels through which the Uruguay round moved to contract and simultaneous evolution of the CAP. an intensive description of the rural parts within the final Uruguay round contract precedes a last bankruptcy waiting for the fascinating good points of destiny international agricultural exchange agreements. This should be a important resource of knowledge for agricultural economists, overseas alternate economists operating in governments, foreign organizations, monetary institutions, and universities. Alan Swinbank is Head of the dept of Agricultural Economics, college of Reading. Carolyn Tanner is Senior Lecturer in Agricultural Economics, collage of Sydney.
