In a sermon I listened to a couple months ago, John Piper asserts that holy affections (the passionate feelings attaining out to God) are only very important as correct theology. (Manning identifies the same dichotomy in these book, writing "...theology, that is religion looking understanding, and spirituality, that is the The Furious Longing of God faith-experience of what we comprehend intellectually..."). these folks with an highbrow bent, specially within the Reformed camp, are likely to live on correct theology overmuch and downplay or forget about having Godward emotions. Manning calls us out on that, noting "In the times ahead, you are going to both be a mystic (one who has skilled God for real) or not anything at all. In occasions of persecution, theoretical Christianity will collapse." This ebook (along with such a lot of his works) is a decision to adventure God for real. A.W. Manning recognizes this: "[It] is usually helpful to recognize that books should be deceptive. the main lyrical prose at the livid longing of God creates the appearance that we've got already arrived at beatitude." Each bankruptcy ends with a pair brief items of "homework" aimed toward enticing with the fabric and experiencing it. this is often the place The Furious Longing of God the rubber meets the road, and that i stay up for travelling via this functional software over the subsequent many days. Amidst the push of day-by-day life, i locate that the flame of the Spirit in my center grows dim.
